TN31, was never matched with any other bullet connected with this case, either a victim or a test bullet. A match was instead achieved between two substitute victim bullets. The ruse was concealed by presenting "TN31" to Dr. Noguchi whenever he testified. The ruse was made possible by a stipulation which obviated any cross-examination of Wolfer and which prevented any demonstration that the prosecution continued to "lack foundation" for the bullets, as Fitts himself conceded in chambers at the time the stipulation was elicited. There is no credible evidence that the purported neck bullet examined by the panelists in 1975 or by Wolfer in 1968 was the same bullet as the one removed from Kennedy neck. The evidence instead shows that from a very early stage in this case's investigation, a fake neck bullet was substituted for the true one. This information was withheld by the prosecution, and the opportunity to discover it was foreclosed by the inept and all-too-willing defense stipulation.

TN31 is a true "magic bullet". It is removed from Senator Kennedy's neck. A bullet with no described identifying markings is then booked into evidence. Wolfer examines a bullet and does not note markings. TN31 next appears with Dr. Noguchi before the Grand Jury. There is no evidence as to what bullet was presented at trial, except that if it was the same exhibit that was shown to the panelists in 1975, it was "DW""TN" and not "TN31". During the trial, the prosecutor conceded in chambers that the prosecution lacked foundation for the bullets. In 1975, Wolfer testifies that the bullet shown to the panelists that same year is the one he where Dr. Nathan Cozen operated to remove a bullet from his left calf, next to the bone.

Paul Schrade, United Auto Workers Union Official, was walking directly behind Kennedy when the shooting occurred. He saw some flashes and lost consciousness. Witnesses reported observing him fall to the floor and several believed that he was dead. Schrade was bleeding profusely from a scalp wound. Dr. Abo made a quick examination of Schrade and determined that the wound appeared superficial.

Schrade was treated at Central Receiving Hospital for a bullet wound to the head and discharged at 1:27 a.m. He was treated at Kaiser Hospital in Los Angeles by Dr. Kasper Fuchs at 3 a.m. Examination revealed that the bullet entered behind the hair line and exited two and-a-half inches to the rear. Shattered bone had been forced into the skull. An incision was made and damaged tissue and bullet fragments were removed. The wound was directly over the sagittal sinus. There was small hole in the skull at the entry which would heal.

William S. Weisel, American Broadcasting Company News Director, was walking approximately six feet behind Kennedy and felt three thumps in his side but was shot only once. He did not see the shooting. Weisel was transferred with Schrade from Central Receiving Hospital to Kaiser Hospital. At 2:30 a.m., Dr. William Neal operated and removed an identifiable .22 caliber bullet from Weisel's left side at a point three inches above the waist line.
